LAX Theme Building and Observation Deck Nears Completion

After three years of construction on the iconic Theme Building and a nine-year closure of the Observation Deck, renovations are scheduled to be completed and the Observation Deck will re-open this summer. Renovations to the Theme Building include seismic retrofitting for earthquake resistance, while maintaining the integrity of the building as a Los Angeles landmark. Notably, the Observation Deck which closed after the September 11th attacks will re-open to the public as a site for plane-spotting, in which enthusiasts photograph and discuss arriving and departing planes. Despite construction and closures, the Encounter Restaurant located atop the Theme Building is in full operation. Daniels Bistro + Bar Now Open to Add New Experience to LAX Dining

To diversify airport dining options, the Tom Bradley International Terminal proudly boasts a new full service restaurant of California cuisine. Daniels Bistro + Bar offers a California menu with breakfast, paninis, sandwiches, pizza, salads and handmade crepes in a bar, restaurant, and lounge atmosphere. This latest dining addition compliments other local Los Angeles favorites including: Pinkberry, Gladstone's 4 Fish, La Brea Bakery, and On the Border Mexican Grill & Cantina. Art Exhibit, Twisted Under Sideways Down, Intrigues Passengers with Kinetic Qualities

A new art exhibit in Terminal 3 – Twisted Under Sideways Down – by local artist Megan Geckler, features a three-dimensional installation made from brightly colored vinyl flagging tape tied and fastened to create a continuous sculptural wave. The exhibit will be on display until July 26, 2010. For more information, click <http://www.lawa.org/newsLAX.aspx>
